Scottish college seek emergency air conditioning equipment

A prestigious Scottish college contacted our air conditioning specialists in search of a permanent climate control solution for their administrative offices, in which their employees were suffering from sweltering hot conditions.

The rapid rise in temperature left dozens of workers exposed to unbearable working conditions. Our client was in desperate need of an air conditioning system to help keep staff cool during working hours and were confident in our ability to handle enquiries at short notice.

As a result, one of our specialists visited site to carry out a free site survey to identify the best units for the application. Shortly after our experts proposed and agreed on a mixture of units, consisting of one Mitsubishi ceiling cassette for the first office and a Mitsubishi wall-mounted air conditioner to help provide comfort cooling to the second.

Once commissioned, our Mitsubishi air conditioning equipment worked perfectly and delivered to site within hours of initial enquiry. Our customer declared that they are extremely pleased with our air conditioning package which was successful in distributing fresh air equally across the office.
